CONTACT NUMBERS AVAILABLE FOR FLOOD VICTIMS
Mental Health, Red Cross and County Emergency Management Agencies Available

(Columbus, OH) – Recovery and assessment efforts are underway for citizens affected by the severe flooding in northern Ohio earlier this week. Governor Ted Strickland declared a state of emergency for Allen, Crawford, Hancock, Hardin, Putnam, Richland, Seneca, Van Wert and Wyandot counties on August 22.

Flood victims are to call in damage reports to their local emergency management offices. For American Red Cross assistance (sheltering, food banks, cleanup kits), residents should call 1-866-GET-INFO (438-4636). County mental health and crisis hotline numbers are available to help individuals cope with the stress and emotions of recovering from a disaster.
